

Kansas Miners Defy Industrial Court; Strike

Union Officers, Headed by Howat, Call Out 200 at Pittsburg While the Injunction Appeal Is Up

Leaders Face Arrest

Latest Clash With the State Authorities Arises Over the Wages of a Boy

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 5.—The first strike of Kansas coal miners, called officially by the district board of the union, since the passage of the Industrial Court law, is in effect to-day. Two hundred coal miners were called out by the district board, headed by Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Miners' Union.

The strike was called because of a dispute over the wages paid Karl Mishmash, a miner. A joint board of operators and miners agreed that Mishmash was to be given a certain wage when he became nineteen years old. The union's claim that the miner now is nineteen is disputed by the operators. Since the injunction suits of last summer, which resulted in the sending of Howat and several other union officials to jail for contempt of court, there has been no clash between Howat and state authorities. The miners' officers were given jail sentences when they refused to appear before the Industrial Court as witnesses. Howat appealed to the Kansas Supreme Court and gave bond and was released. The Kansas Supreme Court upheld the lower court and Howat now has an appeal pending in the United States Supreme Court.

Union Officers' Arrest Expected
TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 5.—Immediate arrest of Alexander Howat and other union officers connected with calling of a coal miners' strike in the Pittsburg region probably will result, Governor H. J. Allen and W. L. Huggins, presiding judge of the Court of Industrial Relations, said to-day when informed of the strike by The Associated Press. The only question to be directly determined by the Industrial Court at this time is whether the closed mines shall be operated under a state receivership, as authorized by the Industrial Court law. Prosecution under the criminal provision of the law is in the hands of the Attorney General and the criminal courts. Judge Huggins declared that if the strike had been deliberately called to test the criminal provisions of the Industrial Court law, it was "an open defiance which is welcomed by all friends of the court."

Borrowed Triplets Given Up; Husband to Adopt Other Six

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

ATLANTA, Feb. 5.—The three babies which Mrs. Alice South obtained from a maternity home and convinced her husband and the public were "triplets" born to her, were returned this afternoon to the founding asylum from which they were taken several weeks ago.

The return of the "triplets" is said to be the result of an agreement by Mrs. South and her husband F. E. A. South, a grocery clerk, following the revelation that the "triplets" and eight other children which she had said were hers had been informally adopted by Mrs. South. It is understood that the Souths agreed to send back the "triplets" and legally to adopt the six others who are now living in the South family.

Two babies, whom Mrs. South passed off on her husband as her twins, later died. A nurse from the maternity home came to the South home and carried the "triplets" back in an automobile. They are now awaiting adoption by some other foster parent.

Until 1 o'clock this morning, Mrs. South said to-day, she and her husband and the children sat up in their little parlor, discussing the situation and praying to God for guidance. At last, she agreed to give up the "triplets" if Mr. South would keep the other children, and to this, she says, he consented. While Mrs. South told this story to callers at her home South was non-committal. He said he would make a complete statement later, but in the mean time he didn't want to say what he was going to do. "That's all right," said Mrs. South, smiling, when informed of her husband's attitude. "He'll come around all right. I know he meant what he said last night when he agreed to keep the other children. He kissed me goodby this morning as he always does, and he told me he loved me better than anything else in the world."

Mother Kills Two Children

Ithaca Woman Goes Insane and Shoots Boy and Girl

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Suddenly becoming insane, Mrs. Pearl Duryea, forty years old, wife of a typewriter company employee, shot her two children, Ruth, aged thirteen, and Gerald, aged ten, through the heads as they slept in their beds in the Duryea home at Peruville, ten miles northeast of this city, early to-day. Both children died within a few hours. Mrs. Duryea attempted to commit suicide, but the act was frustrated by her husband. She was brought to this city and locked up on a charge of homicide.
